Police, Fire Pay Boosts Skid On Red Ink; City Budget Pared

All Requests Cut Sharply

By SHELDON BINN

City council's finance committee stared red ink in the face last night.

After wrestling with the record high schedule of requests for 1949 for more than six hours and succeeding in reducing it from $1,867,839 to $1,332,649, the committee recessed—its task unfinished.

The finance committee was unable to pare the water department request down to the point where it would be in line with expected receipts without fatally curtailing operations.

But, although action on the water department's appropriations was temporarily stymied, certain things were made clear.

Council does not intend to continue paying the city's police and firemen the 29 to 45 percent wage increases granted by the voters on Nov. 2.

Although the wages are still in effect, and will remain so until council passes a bill repealing the initiated ordinance and substitutes its own, the finance committee by its actions, tipped off the patterns of the future.

It cut the police and firemen's salary funds to provide only enough money to pay under the old wage scale.

WILL GET PART

A new salary bill is in the process of being dawn up and it is believed that the police and firemen will get a portion of their wage increase back—but not all of it.

The reduction of the police and firemen's salary fund was in line with wholesale deductions made in nearly every department.

The general fund was slashed from a requested $755,727 to $525,430. This leaves approximately $126,000 in expected general fund receipts that has not yet been earmaked.

The money will be needed, for the most part, to pay the wage adjustments that presumably will be made for all city employes.

Although the water department's request of $502,539 was stripped to the bone, Councilmen Clifford Knarr and Fred Miller, with the aid of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, could only get it down to within $16,000 of the expected receipts of $408,425.

Every possible fund was reduced to the absolute minimum. There is $125,000 in general fund money unappropriated at the moment, but the committeemen apparently felt they couldn't touch it until the new salary bill is worked out and they see exactly how much of that will be needed for the increases.

Furthermore, to pay for the difference out of the general fund would in effect be subsidizing it, which is not considered sound fiscal policy.

Unable to find the needed money, the committee recessed to give the matter further study. The alternatives facing it are to subsidize the water department from the general fund, make further reductions in other departments and

Will Change Thousands Of Numbers

Phone Company Adds New Lines

The Mansfield Telephone company will act to relieve overloaded party lines by assigning new telephone numbers to thousands of Mansfielders and residents of the Mansfield area before March 1, L. R. Wittemire, manager of the company, said today.

Most of the numbers to be changed are on Mansfield party lines of four and eight families. However, some business subscribers also will get different dial numbers.

Wittemire said the changes are being made in an effort to improve telephone service to subscribers.

He said the company has made a study of hundreds of lines to determine which ones are overloaded. Numbers will be shifted from lines with excess traffic to the new lines.

On overloaded lines subscribers do not get the dial tone immediately after they lift the receiver, according to Wittemire. By redistributing numbers on overloaded lines the company hopes to correct this situation, he added.

Over-loading of lines is one of the contributing factors in getting "wrong numbers," although there are many other factors which enter into this, phone company officials said.

The company expects to have new equipment installed and numbers changed before the new telephone directory goes to press. The directory will be distributed March 1, Wittemire said.

Jews Obey U. N. Order

TEL AVIV — (INS) — Israel ordered all its air, sea, and land forces to end hostilities promptly at 7 a. m. EST today, remaining in their present positions and firing only if fired upon.

Similar orders were awaited by the Egyptians as the Negev truce deadline drew near.

Both Jews and Egyptians fought fiercely in a last-minute battle to improve their positions before the 7 a. m. deadline. Both sides had been expected to comply with the truce order, which they agreed to in advance.

But reports from both Jewish and Arab sources said the new bitter clashes are still raging almost at the deadline hour.

Water Pours Into Reservoir

The recent heavy rains have started to fill the city's Clear Fork reservoir although the city hadn't planned to fill it until spring.

City Engineer W. C. Statler, explained that, although none of the gates of the dam has been closed, the vents are not adequate to accommodate the large amount of water rushing into the reservoir.

All the water running through the project has to pass through a 30-inch pipe, he pointed out. Since the rain stopped and the temperature dropped the level of the water has been dropping.

Clearing of the lake bed has been resumed, after a brief lapse because of wet weather, Statler said. Cutting and burning of brush has been going on for two years. However, the recent rainy spell has hampered the burning operations.

Closing the gates to fill the lake probably will begin within a month, Statler predicted.

AGED NUN SUCCUMBS

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Sister Mary Frederica (Kerney), O. P., a nun since 1890, died yesterday at St. Mary's of the Springs convent. She was 83.

Ticket Sale Goes Over Top

Although there is still a week remaining before the 37th annual Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Coliseum, the SRO sign is being displayed following the last-minute rush for tickets before the 5 p. m. deadline today.

This year's reservations were set at the 1,500-mark, the same as the number accommodated last year, according to C. L. VanDereau, general chairman of the banquet committees, and today all available tickets were gone.

This insures a capacity crowd for the dinner and program on Jan. 14.

17 Perish During Blizzards

(By United Press)

A new storm struck today at Wyoming, Montana and Colorado as snow plow and rescue teams found the bodies of 17 persons who died in the big blizzard that lashed the plains earlier this week.

Almost a score of persons were still missing in the giant snowdrifts piled up over Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota and Nebraska.

The weather bureau said a storm front was sweeping southeastward from Canada into Wyoming and Montana and would hit Colorado later today. Forecasters warned that temperatures would drop as the disturbance struck with shifting winds and more snow.

The storm threatened new hardships for tens of thousands of persons who were snowbound by the blizzard that started Sunday and blew itself out yesterday.

New floods broke out in the gulf states, meanwhile, but high water in Indiana and Ohio was slowly receding.

Southern California, which had been hit by its worst crop-killing freeze in history, thawed out as temperatures rose. Arizona reported that the cold snap was its worst since 1937.

The floods in the south and midwest and the freezing weather in the far west were both by-products of the big blizzard which snapped a huge vortex of bad weather around the nation as it scourged the Great Plains.

PLOWS FIND BODIES

Two families were wiped out in the whiplashing storm.

A snowplow crew found the bodies of Phil Roman, 35, his wife, Ione, 35, and their children, Tony, 11, and Peggy, 9, where they had died amidst 20-foot drifts when their light truck stalled near Ault, Colo.

Less than a mile from the ranchhouse the family was trying to reach, the crew found Mrs. Roman's body huddled protectively over that of Peggy. Fifty feet away they found Roman, his frozen body still sheltering his dead son.

At Hillsdale, Wyo., searchers found the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Archuleta and their daughter. Nancy, 5, where they were caught by the blizzard after visiting friends at Burns, Wyo.

Most of the dead were found by snow plows that bit into the drifts, clearing railroads and highways for traffic for the first time this week. At one time, almost 10,000 persons were trapped in automobiles and trains bogged in the snow that piled 30 feet deep in places

Rites Set For Slain Beauty

SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Ruth Farnsworth, 27, who was beaten to death in the Guam jungle last month.

The body of the pretty redhaired girl was brought here by the navy transport Thomas Jefferson yesterday. Her fiance, Staff Sergeant Sterling McGinnis, Belle Center, O., accompanied her body home.

The murder has not been solved. Inspector Albert Riedel, Berkeley lie detector expert, left for Guam last Monday to aid the navy in the investigation.

Two Cycle Riders Hurt, One Critically

Two Mansfield men were injured, one critically, when the motorcycle on which they were riding crashed into the rear of a Yellow Stripe taxi driven by William Bauer, at 12:40 p. m. today. Andrew McBride, 160 Michigan avenue, operator of the motorcycle, was critically hurt, while Albert Zeigler, 136 Columbia avenue, received minor injuries, police said. Both were taken to Mansfield General hospital. The accident occurred at the corner of South Main and Second streets.

Truman Seeks Rent Control Until '51

WASHINGTON—(UP)—President Truman today asked Congress to extend rent control "at least two years" and renewed his plea for standby wage-price controls to check the "dangerous inflationary forces" still at work.

At the same time, the President hinted in his third annual economic report that he was thinking largely of an excess profits tax on business when he asked Congress, Wednesday, for $4,000,000,000 in new tax money.

And he went on to expand his tax program today by saying that "some additional excise taxes may be desirable but some excise taxes particularly on oleomargarine, should be repealed." He also called for an increase in social security taxes.

The President's economic report hit hard on the theme that inflation remains a serious menace to our prosperity. But he warned that the threat of a potential recession also is in evidence and must not be ignored.

As long as the economic situation contains such "mixed elements," he said, the government must have powers that can be applied as a brake or an accelerator according to the need.

To combat both menaces at once, he requested standby wage, price and distribution controls; higher but "flexible" taxes; continued controls on rents and on bank and consumer credit; and a wide range of social welfare programs.

Mr. Truman first asked the 81st Congress to extend rent control on Wednesday in his state of the union mesage. But he did not say then how long he wanted it continued after the scheduled March 31 expiration.

He clarified himself on that score today, saying: "The present housing shortage makes it necessary to continue rent control for at least two years and to strengthen its enforcement."

PROFITS TARGET

Turning to taxes, the President again asked for $4,000,000,000 in new revenue with corporations the "principal" source. Again, as in his Wednesday message, he did not say specifically whether he wanted a boost in normal corporation tax rates or a new excess profits levy.

But he appeared to be thinking of an excess profits tax when he said:

"Corporate profits after taxes (in 1948) amounted to about $21,000,000,000, contrasted with a record level of about $18,000,000,000 in 1947."

Mr. Truman not only asked for power to clamp price ceilings on basic commodities that get out of line but for a new price weapon—the right to order any industry to hold up a proposed price increase until a public investigation is held to find out if it is "justified."

Mr. Truman also asked his Democratic majority on Capitol Hill to work for a series of social measures "to protect the victims of inflation."

He referred specifically to expansion of social security coverage, plus an increase in benefits, and a minimum wage boosted up to 75 cents an hour.

Mr. Truman repeated in the general terms his hopes for action on a national health program; development of natural resources including the St. Lawrence seaway project; and a re-examination of farm legislation in the light of new needs for stabilized world markets and long-range price supports.

Busy Phones Prevent Help Call

1,000 Turkeys Lost As Fire Levels Barns

Loss was estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 today as the result of a fire which destroyed nearly 1,000 ready-to-market turkeys, two turkey barns and a saddle horse and her colt yesterday at the D. K. Wittmer turkey farm, seven miles southwest of Mansfield.

Gene Wells, head of the volunteer fire department of Ontario, said he and his men were summoned to the farm shortly after 5 a. m. when the Wittmer's dog aroused the family by barking.

Wells said origin of the fire was still undetermined. Two barns in which the turkeys were housed were collapsing when the firemen arrived, he added.

Wells said the barn mows were filled with hay. Both barns were 40 by 60 feet in size and set near the house and a shed which were saved by the firemen.

Unable to reach the firemen by telephone because of busy lines, Wittmer was forced to drive into Ontario to get them, Wells said. Ontario is about three miles from the Wittmer farm on the Aten-Umbarger road.

The fire destroyed the entire stock of Wittmer's ready-to-market birds. The farm is one of three owned by Wittmer for raising turkeys.

Officials Fear Explosion, Fire

'Mystery' Oil Leaks Into Sewer Lines

"Mystery" oil in Mansfield's sewer lines is "gumming up" the works at the city sewage treatment plant and creating a fire hazard, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said today.

Garrison said the oil was first detected Wednesday night at the plant and that city officials are concerned about the detrimental effect the substance might have on the plant's operation.

City crews today were trying to locate the origin of the oil, Garrison said. Possibilities mentioned as cause of the seepage were disposition of automobile oil from some large service station, waste from a dry cleaning plant, industrial waste, or a leaking oil line within the city.

Not only does the oil create a fire hazard. Garrison said, but it hampers detection of bacteriological content of sewage at the plant. He said the oil also was discoloring the concrete at the plant.

He pointed out that pouring oil into sewers is a violation of a city ordinance and warned anyone who might be causing the trouble is liable to prosecution.

The fumes in the sewer system are extremely dangerous, Garrison said. If they concentrate in any area they could cause a serious explosion and fire if touched off by a match or a lighted cigaret.

Seek Slayer Of Spinster

Church Worker Beaten to Death

ATHENS, — (INS) — Police in three states were engaged in a manhunt today for a brutal killer who bludgeoned a 55-year-old spinster to death in her home near Athens, O.

Miss Eleanor E. Gifford, a field worker for the Episcopal church, was beaten about the head with what Ohio police believe to be a tire iron yesterday. She was robbed and her 1948 Chevrolet sport sedan is missing.

Dr. John H. Elias, Athens county coroner, said Miss Gifford had not been raped.

The state highway patrol and sheriff's agencies in Ohio and neighboring states have been alerted in the search for the blue and green two-tone sedan, whose Ohio license number reads X-866-K. The thief apparently took the murdered woman's pocketbook, also.

Plane Lost; Fear 3 Dead

TACOMA, Wash. — (UP) — An air force C-47 transport plane carrying three crewmen became lost in a fog over McChord field early today and authorities believed it crashed in the mountains east of here.

The air force sent search parties into the mountains after the plane's gasoline supply was exhausted at 2:37 a. m. (PST). Planes were set to join the search as soon as the fog lifted.

When last contacted, the twin-engine ship was making an instrument landing in the McChord field pattern. An error in the approach caused the tower to order the pilot to life up and try again.

The plane was last spotted on the radar scope of the ground controlled approach equipment at midnight. It was then seven miles north of the field

Suspect Held In Shooting

CLEVELAND, — (INS) — A 21-year-old ex-convict was held by police today in connection with the robbery-shooting of Morris Goldberg, a jewelry store owner.

Three witnesses yesterday identified the man as one of the four men who had fled earlier from Goldberg's jewelry store when one of the quartet shot the proprietor in the head.

Goldberg, 65, narrowly escaped death. Police said the bullet struck him in the back of the head, coursed around the skull under the skin and emerged over the right temple. He is being held at Charity hospital for observation.

Lovett Leaves Too; No Policy Change Seen

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall and Undersecretary Lovett resigned today and President Truman named Dean Acheson to head the state department.

Mr. Truman announced the action at a news conference. He said he is appointing Budget Director James E. Webb as undersecretary of state.

The changes are effective Jan. 20 when Mr. Truman will be inaugurated as President for his new term.

The President, when announcing Marshall's resignation and his acceptance, betrayed in his voice the affection he has always maintained for the World War II chief of staff.

"I think General Marshall is the outstanding man of that war period," he said.

Mr. Truman emphasized that considerations of General Marshall's health prompted him to accept the resignation, and that he did so "reluctantly and with regret."

Marshall underwent a kidney operation last month and is now at his home in Pinehurst, N. C., recuperating. His recovery has gone slowly and the announcement that the 68-year-old general would retire from the cabinet's No. 1 post was not unexpected.

Lovett, whom General Marshall brought into the state department, said in a letter to Mr. Truman that he submitted his resignation "for personal reasons with which you are familiar."

Acheson, presently practicing law in New York and Washington, has a background of more than six years' experience in the state department. He is 55.

Throughout World War II he served as assistant secretary of state under Cordell Hull.

In his news conference the President denied emphatically and in detail, a published story that he is engaged in a fight within his cabinet to soften U. S. policy toward Russia.

NO POLICY CHANGE

At his news conference the chief executive asserted there is no change in this country's foreign policy.

He said the article, by Jay Franklin in Life magazine, is without foundation in fact in nearly every instance and paragraph.

Mr. Truman said further he never had a private conference or interview with Franklin in his life. He said the writer had been in to see him about a job a couple of times and that was all he knew.

Franklin never saw a top secret document, the President said.

The President spoke out on the issue after some top administration officials had indicated belief that he would have to clarify his personal attitude toward Russia soon.

These officials held that an expression from the President was needed to end speculation here and abroad on the future of American policy.

Icy Streets Blamed For 10 Accidents

Cars Skid In City After Light Snow

A light snowfall and freezing temperatures yesterday made driving conditions hazardous in Mansfield, causing at least 10 minor traffic accidents in the city. No injuries were reported in any of the collisions.

Four cars were involved in a crash yesterday afternoon on East Second street.

A car driven by Robert G. Beer, Mansfield, R. D. 4, attempting to stop, slid into the car ahead, driven by Clarence L. Newton, 312 East First street, and continued to slide into a parked car. Another car, driven by Helen T. Hergatt, Wooster road, skidded while trying to stop for the collision and rammed the Newton car. Fenders on all four vehicles were damaged, police said.

Driving conditions today were good in most sections of the city, and the temperature had climbed to 41 degree at noon. Temperatures yesterday climbed gradually and reached a high of 34 at 11:30 p. m. Today's low was 32 at 7:30 a. m.

The state highway department said 10 routes were still closed by high water from rivers and streams that went on a rampage Tuesday night and Wednesday following heavy rainfalls. More than 19 routes were closed Wednesday morning and dozens of families were evacuated from low-lying areas in the Cincinnati and Lebanon areas.

The weather bureau said it would be partly cloudy tonight, with increasing cloudiness and colder weather expected tomorrow afternoon or evening.

The five-day extended forecast for Ohio follows:

Temperatures will average four or five degrees above normal, turning colder late Saturday. Warmer Monday, followed by colder late Monday or Tuesday; snow flurries likely about Saturday night in north portion. Rain in south portion, rain or snow in north portion Sunday night or Monday, possibly again Wednesday. Total precipitation one-fourth to one-half inch in south portion, and about one-half inch in north portion.

Motorists Stalled When Lights Go Out

Traffic in the downtown area was thrown into confusion for about 15 minutes yesterday afternoon when a fuse blew out putting traffic lights out of operation.

Motorists were stymied by the blank lights. Some sat in their cars briefly at intersections waiting for something to happen. Others, seemingly bent on making the most of the opportunity to ignore traffic signals, rushed through the intersections after quick sidelong glances to left and right.

No serious traffic jams were reported to police. When the trouble was reported to City Electrician Ernest Adams he quickly replaced the faulty fuse, and traffic returned to normal.

FALL PROVES FATAL

COLUMBUS, — (AP) — Mrs. Stella Allen, 88, died at a local hospital yesterday of injuries suffered when she fell at her home Sunday.

Spouse Held In Slaying

LORAIN—(AP)—Sam Cimesa, 51, reported two masked gunmen killed his wife, Katie, 44, and wounded him Wednesday morning, but police said today he would be charged with the shooting.

Detective Lt. Vernon said a warrant charging Cimesa, a steelworker, with shooting, would be held in abeyance pending Cimesa's recovery from a critical chest wound.

Cimesa lapsed into a coma at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday and could not be questioned further on his story that two masked men came in a side door of his house Wednesday morning, asked him for his money, and then fired two bullets into his wife's head and three into him.

Smith said a .38 caliber automatic from which the shots were fired was found in a bureau drawer. Smith quoted Cimesa as saying the gunmen took the weapon from the drawer, used it to fire the shots, then put it back.

It's a Boy For 'Bogie' And 'Baby'

HOLLYWOOD —(INS)— Movie tough Guy Humphrey Bogart and his actress wife, Lauren Bacall, welcomed their first-born child today.

The baby, a six-pound, six ounce boy, arrived late last night at the Cedars of Lebanon hospital. It has been named Stephen Humphrey Bogart.

The Bogarts were married in May, 1945, at the Mansfield, Ohio, farm of novelist Louis Bromfield.

Two Bengals Suffer From Flu Attacks

Effectiveness of the Mansfield Senior high basketball team may be below par tonight when the Tygers battle Ashland in the first "big" game of the season at 8:15 on the Bengal hardwood.

Mild attacks of the flu has hit several key members of the Senior high squad, although none were expected to miss tonight's game. A check this noon showed that all varsity squadron were in school.

Bulletin . . .

Youngstown Chaney athletic officials late this morning asked for release from their contracted basketball date with Senior high Jan. 21 at the Tyger gym. Chaney had a mixup with city league dates.

Faculty Manager Fred Staub announced that Akron North had been substituted for the Youngstown school. North and Senior high will play here Jan. 22.

Co-captains Norb Shibinski and Paul Ferguson both came through sieges this week. Coach Vern Hoffman probably has suffered more than the ill cagers. Hoffman's club has lost three of its last four games and has to be at its best against Ashland.

WIN SIX OF SEVEN

The A's have won six of seven games this season and five of the last seven meetings with the Bengals. The long series now stands at 38 Tyger wins to 35 for Ashland.

Hoffman thinks the Tygers will have a long uphill fight if they expect to catch the Ashlanders

In an effort to halt the losing "new" quintet tonight, Ed Demyan, 1947-48 letterman, will make his first appearance in a Bengal suit while Ken McCally, clever soph, will get a starting call at guard.

McCally made his varsity debut last week, subbing in both games of the Lima carnival. Demyan and McCally both stand better than six-feet and they are good offensive men.

ROUND OUT TEAM

Jim Anderson, Shibinski and Ferguson round out the starting Tiger lineup which will average over six-foot. Shibinski leads the team in scoring, 90 points, Anderson has 83 and Ferguson, 45. Ed Schmitt (41) and Willie Fowler (31) will probably replace the two "sick" cagers if they can't go the distance.

Ashland has only one letterman —Phil Lersch—back off the team which split with the Tygers last year. He is the second Ashland scorer with 70 points. Norm McVicker, 6-foot forward, has 76 and Bud Jones, 6-2 center, has 66.

Ray Bates, No. 6 man on the squad, is fourth in scoring with 57. The A's feature a well-balanced attack.

★

The Tyger sophomores will battle the Ashland Junior Varsity in the prelim at 7 p. m. The Bengal cubs have won six straight decisions.

★

WATG-FM Ashland will broadcast the varsity game starting at 8 p. m.

★

Senior high has won four of seven and has not been beaten on the home court. Over the last two years, the Tygers have won 14 straight at home.

Hassinger Paces Rifle Shooters

Team No. 1 won its third straight match in the Mansfield City Rifle league last night by defeating Team No 3, 1411 to 1394.

3 Richland County Quints In Battle For Second Spot

At least one of the three teams tied for second place in the Richland county league will fall by the wayside tonight as four circuit games are scheduled.

Lucas and Bellville, two of the three teams in question, will fight it out at Bellville in the feature game of the program. Bellville should be favored to win in the contest but Lucas has been the surprise team of the league, and if it wins tonight must definitely be considered a contender.

SHOULD KEEP PACE

Lexington, the third team deadlocked for the runner-up spot, is set to entertain the faltering Plymouth quintet and should have little trouble keeping pace.

Meanwhile, the undefeated Ontario Warriors invade Union in search of victory No. 7 and Shiloh travels to Butler. The latter game will be a battle for the basement as both teams have won only a single league encounter. Butler won its first game Tuesday over Plymouth while Shiloh has defeated Union.

Judge Cuts Bribers' Bail; Two Are Free on Bond Today

NEW YORK—(AP)—Two of four men accused of trying to "fix" a college basketball game were free on bond today, after a judge reduced bail in the case from $50,000 to $20,000 each.

The other two men still were in the city prison.

State Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora reduced bail yesterday for the four men, but called the case "particularly mean and despicable."

Last night, bond was posted for Jack Levy, 40, of Miami, Fla., and William Rivlin, 43, of New York. The two still in prison are Joseph Aronowitz, 35, and Philip Klein, 24, both of Brooklyn.

All four have denied charges that they tried to bribe David Shapiro, 25, of Brooklyn, co-captain of the George Washington university basketball team, to "fix" a Madison Square Garden game with Manhattan college last Tuesday night.

Shapiro has been praised by authorities for helping in a long investigation that followed the alleged bribe attempt.

Sanity Code Enforced In Most Cases

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) The National Collegiate Athletic association, embarked on a program to establish a high ethical standard among its membership, heard today that steady progress has been made in the enforcement of its year-old sanity code.

Most of the members are adhering to the code; a few still are ignoring it or violating parts of it, a survey conducted by the association's compliance committee has disclosed.

Clarence F. Houston, Tufts college, chairman of the committee, reporting to the membership, said:

"This effort to make the NCAA a regulatory body will not take place overnight. If we can draw any parallel from the experience of other educational associations which attempted to establish ethical standards, we shall be fortunate if we can regard ourselves as successful by the end of a three-year period."

Houston is head of a board which includes Ralph W. Aigler of the University of Michigan and James H. Stewart of Dallas, commissioner of the Southwestern conference.

Pioneer Quint Goes Down to Second Defeat

SHELBY — Mansfield Johnny Appleseed junior high school went down to its second defeat in five starts here yesterday afternoon, 47-30, before the Shelby reserves.

Blowser dropped in 19 points to head the Shelby team which was never behind after jumping into an 8-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Whippets led by only 14-12 at the half but ran off with the game in the final two periods. They led 31-22 at the third period.

Dave Schwein led Appleseed with 12 points while his running mate Freddy Zahn was held to five points.

The Appeseed eighth grade team won the preliminary by an 18-14 score.

Sport Center Wins 'A' League Playoff

Ohio Sport Center won the first half championship of the City A league last night but only after Rogers Jewelry had brought the season's biggest crowd to its feet with a last quarter rally. Score was 54-52.

With but three minutes to go Sport Center led 52-45 when Rogers began its rally. Dick Casad closed the gap, 52-52, with a hook shot from the rear of the foul circle with one minute left. However, Jim Tolles took command and returned Sport Center to the lead with a long shot from mid-court. Sport Center froze the ball the rest of the way.

THREE-WAY TIE

The American B league also made news as it closed its season in a three-way tie between Mansfield Tire, Main Cigar Store, and Westinghouse. Main Cigar handed Tire its first defeat, 36-31, to make the tie possible. Cigar led all the way after the first quarter.

Westinghouse took the measure of Reese Optical, 43-30, in the other contest, for its fifth victory against one defeat.

City Recreation Director Stan Kamin said today that the first half title will be decided by two playoff games. A drawing will be held among the three clubs and one will be given a bye while the others play a preliminary game. Due to a full schedule, the playoffs may not be staged until the end of the season.

Warmath Takes Army Grid Post

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—Signing of Murray Warmath as Army's new line coach was announced today by O. C. (Ockie) Krueger, graduate manager of athletics at West Point.

Warmath, whose home is Knoxville, Tenn., has been head line coach at the University of Tennessee since 1946. He replaces Sid Gillman, who resigned to become head coach at the University of Cincinnati.

Illini-Hoosier Contests Top Big Nine Card

CHICAGO — (AP) — Illinois, which won its first Big Nine basketball opener since 1944 in defeating Wisconsin last Monday, will defend its first-week leadership, against Indiana tomorrow in a feature of a four-game conference program.

The Hoosiers have won eight of nine non-conference games. Their only loss was a 64 to 55 trimming by Butler, a team which the Illini edged, 67 to 62 in Campaign last month. Illinois' only loss in nine non-league games was a 60 to 50 setback by De Paul. The Illini later beat De Paul 89 to 51 at Champaign. They whipped Wisconsin 60 to 52.

TEAMS MAKE DEBUT

At Minneapolis tomorrow defending champion Michigan tackles undefeated Minnesota in the conference debut for both teams. Michigan has won seven of eight non-league games, the Wolverines only loss being a 53 to 51 reversal by Stanford. Minnesota, under new coach Ozzie Cowles who transferred from Michigan, has triumphed in eight straight pre-conference games.

The other games in which all four teams will be opening Big Nine play match Northwestern (2-5) at Ohio State (5-1), and Purdue (6-3) at Iowa 7-1). Wisconsin (5-4) is host to Creighton in a non-conference game.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Robert Villemain, latest French importation, makes his American bow tonight against Steve Belloise, veteran New York middleweight, in a 10-rounder, at Madison Square Garden.

Rams Trying For Fourth Win of Year

A victory-starved Wapakoneta Blume high basketball team will invade Madison's hilltop gym tonight in search of its first win of the 1948-49 season. The host Rams will be after their fourth in six games.

Although having come out on the short end of every score Wapakoneta is used to rough competition, having played four tough northeastern Ohio and one Indiana school. Madison's only tough opponent has been Akron South, which defeated it easily, 67-42.

LOSE TO FIVE

The Blume high boys have been beaten by New Bremen, Lima South, Coldwater, St. Marys and Bluffton, Ind. Their schedule includes another tilt with the always great Hoosier teams.

As to size the two teams will be about even, as neither has a man far over the six-foot mark. Wapakoneta has two veterans back from last year when Madison won 53-28 on the loser's floor. Back are Bob Van Skines, a guard and Tom McKeever, forward.

For Madison, Center Joe Distl will be back in the starting lineup tonight, with Ray "Dutch" Bader relegating to forward and Gene Riblet taking his place as the "sixth man".

★

Coach Bob Kennedy's John Simpson junior high reserve team will meet the Madison seconds in the preliminary test at 7:30.

Singer Wants To Buy Eagles

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Singer Frankie Laine says he expects to make an offer today to purchase the Philadelphia Eagles pro football club of the National eague.

Laine said last night that Charlie Ewart, general manager of the Eagles, told him the club has not been sold and he would be glad to receive Laine's offer.

However, the singer said the syndicate he represents would not be interested in buying the Eagles unless the franchise could be moved to San Francisco.

Three Over 650 Mark In Commercial 'B'

The Commercial B league had its best round of the season last night as six bowlers cracked the honor roll mark—three of them all the way over 650.

Tops among the pin-busters was Ed Henrich's 659 rolled with Schroer's. Ed had consistently fine games of 220, 227 and 212, but was only five pins ahead of Win Cleckner's 654. Win had 214, 206, and 234 for Oak Park Tavern. The other among the top trio was Colony manager Art Hilborn who fired 189-229-236—652.

BOB TORRID TOO

Rolling on the same team with Art—Yuncker's—was his son, Bob, who cut loose with 247-185-195—627, his first game being high for the night. E. Robertson of Oak Park Tavern had 250-148-221—609, while Jack Hanrahan of Mansfield Rug completed the honor roll list with 236-196-170—602.

Fancee Brand Foods Tony Augustine turned in 585, while Al Stirtzinger of Rose Bowl had 579 and Hugo Brannon of Fancee Brands, 578.

Mansfield Rug and Linoleum moved to within one game of first place as it swept three from Zitzer's, while Dearman's Transportation was losing two of three to the Lions club.

★

Only other honor roll score was a 623 compiled by John Mabee in the Tappan Stove league on games of 215, 208, and 200. Joe Harrod pounded out 570 for runnerup honors, while Bob Curren had 549 and Virgil Shaffer, 544.

★

A meeting of the board of directors of the Industrial Bowling tournament has been called for tonight by Colony manager Art Hilborn to set dates for the 1949 joust. It has been planned to hold the tourney some time in April.

★

Eve Mayer of The Elms was the pace-setter in the Women's Commercial A league as she rolled 183-178-179—540. Donna Schuster of Ohio Sport Center had 527. Eleanore Kanz of 36 Bar, 524, and Thelma Cox of Mansfield Frosted Foods, 513. Thelma's 206 and Ev Marshman's 201 were the only "200" games.

Ohio Sport Center jumped to eight games ahead of the pack as it rung up a 2342 score to take three games from runnerup Yuncker's.

★

Both single game and series honors were tied in the Women's Industrial league. Hazel Stevens had a share in both with a 176 single and 464 series mark. Helen McCracken was deadlocked with Hazel for the series mark, while Betty Miller also had a 170 single.

Betty Miller had 462 and Chris Au 453.

Stan Fox, leadoff man for the Mansfield Hardware quintet, topped the Amvet league scorers at the Richland Recreation center with 188-199-169—556. Robert Forsythe, Smoke Shop, was a close second with 176-211-161—548.

Other leading scorers were: Joe Rizzo, A. B. Grafton, 529; Fred Tonnemacher, Al's Kicks, 515, and Ray Lumbert, Grafton's, 487. W. Huffman, A. B. Grafton, had a 200 game.

League-leading Smoke Shop won three games from Purdy Construction.

★

Lead in the Amvet Auxiliary league went to Hulda Pahls, Hughes Hardware, with 149-141-178—468.

Virginia Gadfield, Kallmerton and Baer, had 393 and Margie Beveridge, Brandenburg Chevrolet, had 377.

Cleveland Barons Need One Score

(By International News Service)

The Cleveland Barons hope to score at least one goal against the Providence Reds tomorrow night when the American Hockey league's eastern division leaders invade Cleveland.

The first tally Cleveland scores on the Reds tomorrow ties a record that has stood since 1942—a streak of scoring in 112 straight including playoffs.

Chesterville Wins

IBERIA — Chesterville stopped a last half Iberia rally to win a Morrow county league game here by a 47-41 score.

Michigan Coach Can't Make Fete

SAN FRANCISCO—(U.P.)—Coach Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan was honored by the nation's grid mentors as "Coach of the Year" here last night, but he wasn't present at the banquet.

Chosen in the annual Scripps-Howard poll, Oosterbaan was en route to the coast for the affair when his train became snowbound at Kimball, Neb. Michigan Athletic Director Orin (Fritz) Crisler accepted the trophy for him.

Butler Boosters Basketball Team Wins Two Games

BUTLER—The Butler Boosters took a double-header from two Lucas teams last night, beating the Lucas Lutheran, 44-33, and Lucas Vets, 37-31.

Roberts and Maylott combined to score 41 points in the two contests. Butler will be host to Frankie Mitsch's of Mansfield next Thursday following a 7:30 preliminary between the Butler 7th and 8th grades and Lincoln Heights.

Lucas Vets, winners of nine of eleven games, will meet Au Construction of Mansfield and Shiloh American Legion in a double-header Saturday.

Cleveland Brownies Sign Texas Footballer

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The all-America conference champion Browns have signed Raymond "Sugar" Evans, tackle from the Texas College of Mines, for the 1949 season.

Evans, who stands six feet one-inch, weighs 220 pounds and is 25 years old. He was voted the most valuable player in the border conference the last two seasons.

A's South American Exhibition Tour Off

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics will play 32-exhibition games before the opening of the American league season in April but none of them will be in Venezuela or Colombia.

Business Manager Roy Mack said yesterday a 10-day trip to the two South American countries had been cancelled because of political disturbances.

Writer Blames 'Pools' On Athletic Bribing

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK—(INS)—The conductor of this column is outraged at the latest attempt to fix a college basketball game in Madison Square Garden—and not one bit surprised.

That some of these fixes have succeeded in the past is reasonably certain.

MOST ARE HONEST

But it is my conviction that 99 per cent of the games have been honest. Just as I believe that 99 per cent of the youngsters who play them are decent, honest American youngsters in the mould of David Shapiro.

If they are not okay, our educational system, our home teaching, our country has reached a sad pass. And if these boys, most of them with every good opportunity, are not right, what is it that we ask of the Grazianos off the streets of our slum districts?

Sure, Dave Shapiro is honest and decent. As his dad said, who would have expected anything else of him? Of any of these boys? And if a few have fumbled the ball, who put 'em on the spot?

We did of course. Nobody else. And by "we" I mean we citizens.

So is the college graduate who makes it a practice to bet on college football and basketball games, culpable.

So is the lawyer, the doctor, the business man who bets, or regularly plays the pools on these games.

He may never have thought of it in that light, and probably never did. But he is making a race horse, a lottery number, of college boys.

Worse still, he is putting his money into a circulation, a sort of revolving pool, where it may easily wind up in the hands of a louse that will use it to try to seduce a Princeton, a Columbia, a Fordham player.

No gambling "come on" in history ever has compared in strength for the bookmaker or in iniquity, with the point system of betting on football and basketball of recent years.

These agencies for the destruction of college ahtletics hit the score on the nose, time after time, as precisely and perfectly as an original Joe Louis left jab hit the proboscis.

Surely you must know that these fellows have something on the game. That they have a correspondent on every campus. A rubber, a water boy, a hanger-on with every team. If you bet, your money is helping to pay for this serviec that helps you lose your money.

As I have said so often, there's never been a locked-up, surething game to compare with it. The bloke with the walnut shells and little pea was a piker, a pop-eyed plunger, alongside the deal.

Ram Grid Banquet Tickets Go On Sale

A limited number of tickets for the Jan. 15 Madison high school football banquet have been placed on sale at $2 per plate. They may be obtained either from members of the Madison Booster club or at the high school from assistant Coach Bill Kopical.

Only 180 seats in addition to players, coaches, and cheerleaders are available.

ANOTHER THING, NINA— I COULD CHARGE FARM INCOME LOSSES, IF ANY AGAINST WALLET & BOBBLE PROFITS
SO YOU PLAN TO HAVE TWO BUSINESSES?
OF COURSE! WILMER WOULD HAVE TO TAKE OVER, BUT I'D STILL BE IN THE PARTNERSHIP
IN THAT CASE, YOU'D HAVE TO CHARGE W & B LOSSES AGAINST FARM LOSSES
BUT IF THEY'D BOTH MAKE MONEY, I'D GO INTO A HIGHER TAX BRACKET
WHAT A MELANCHOLY THOUGHT!

Chinese Leaders Concede Defeat for Chiang's Peace Plan

Reds Launch New Attack On Tientsin

Generals Admit Outlook 'Slim'

NANKING—(INS)—Chinese communists replied to the government's peace offensive today with heavy cannonading around besieged Tientsin and Nationalist officials virtually conceded their pleas for a truce had failed.

The outbreak of fresh fighting in north China after the holiday lull brought one bit of consolation for the government, however, with the report that the Red high command had suffered a serious blow in the death of its ace leader.

The Nationalists announced that the one-eyed communist Gen. Liu Po-Cheng, chief of all central front Red armies, had been killed in an attack by a Nationalist bomber on the east central front.

From a high Nationalist military and administrative leader, Gen. Chen Cheng, came the admission that prospects of peace with the communists now are "very slim."

Chen, newly-appointed governor of Taiyuan province, said this was so despite the fact that President Chiang Kai-shek had plainly implied his willingness to step down from office if that would help end China's bloody civil war.

Asserting that Chiang would be "willing to make personal concessions," Chen told a Nanking news conference:

"His sole aim throughout the national revolution has been its consummation, not the presidency of China."

Chen pointed out that "peace is a two-sided affair" and that the communists do not seem sincere in their professed desire to end the war. He said:

"This has to be faced squarely today as a hard reality."

in the water department or find additional revenue for the department.

The garbage department provided another big headache. Expected receipts total $87,689, but the committee could only cut the requests down to $92,720. That problem will be worked out at the next finance committee meeting.

Another department which was slashed considerably was the street department which was cut almost in half to $161,000.

The sanitary sewer department was cut from $104,600 to $70,950, to bring it in line with expected receipts.

Major changes in the general fund were:

Police department—from $132,585 to $106,600.

Fire department—from $190,891 to $133,300.

Health department—money for a inspector of food and markets was alloted by the committee.

Storm sewers—from $110,900 to $58,000. The major reduction here was cutting the amount of money earmarked for new storm sewers from $100,000 to $50,000.

Park department — from $76,600 to $53,000. Major cuts here came by elimination of $10,000 for new land purchase and $5,000 for a South Boulevards community house.

The finance committee is expected to call a joint meeting with the salary committee, at which time the new salaries will be incorporated into the appropriation measure and the water and garbage department problems will be worked out.

The bill will then be presented to council as a whole for final approval.

Brick Firm Incorporated

Incorporation papers have been filed in Columbus by the Ohio Shale Face Brick company, with 3,000 shares of common stock at par value of $100 a share authorized. Incorporators are Edward Degree, Emil Stephan, and Theodore B. Livernois.

The incorporation is being handled by the firm of Fildew and Degree, of Detroit.

The company is located on Amoy-Pavonia road, and has been known as the Livernois Face Brick company.

According to a warranty deed filed in the county recorder's office Livernois sold his interest in the property to the corporation for $15,000.

The land embraces 61.6 acres, subject to a right-of-way of 3.4 acres to the Erie railroad. The transaction includes buildings, fixtures, clay plants, one tractor, and all other chattel property used in clay working.

Holmes Jury Gets Attack Case Monday

Mother Assaulted; 3 Still Charged

MILLERSBURG — Holmes county grand jury will convene Monday. Among the cases for their consideration will be three of four men who were alleged to have criminally assaulted a 27-year old northeastern Holmes county housewife and mother of three children last Oct. 15.

They are further alleged to have held the husband of the woman in the yard while they in turn criminally assaulted the woman.

The other member of the quartet arrested by Sheriff Wayne Starner and Deputy Gordon Barton was Harry Ober, 17, Fredericksburg, who Probate Judge F. W. Fankhauser sentenced to three years in the Mansfield reformatory after he pleaded guilty to criminal attack and breaking and entering.

The three men whose cases will be reviewed by the grand jury are each charged with the same crime. They are Mahlon Hostetler, 32, Fredericksburg, Gene Weber 21, Cambridge and John E. Duncan, 18, Fredericksburg.

A forgery check against Lawrence Swinehart, 37, of near Shreve also will be before the jury. He was arrested early in December by Sheriff Starner after he allegedly tried to cash a check made out to Mrs. Gertrude M. Keil of Santa Rosa, Calif., after having forged two signatures and signed his own name to the warrant.

Tax Deadline Blocks Probe

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The Jan. 15 income tax deadline squarely blocked any action today on the State Liquor department's order for the city of Circleville to show cause why its share of liquor permit fees should not be withheld.

After a long delay yesterday, the Liquor Control board heard the case briefly, then adjourned on the plea of Attorneys Joseph Adkins jr., and Ray Davis, representing the city.

They said they had a lot of business to handle for farmers filing income tax returns.

Bride-To-Be Arrives From Vienna

War-Wounded Couple to Wed

By BILL HERRING
News-Journal State Editor

BELLVILLE—An Austrian girl, wounded in the first Allied plane bombing of Vienna, and a local ex-GI, who was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium, will be married here Saturday night in the porsonage of the Church of Christ.

Edith Singer, daughter of Mrs. Johann Adele Flotek of Vienna, and Robert Kodger, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Kodger of 25 West East street here, will exchange vows before Rev. John Barry to climax a post-wartime romance that started in a Vienna Red Cross center while Robert was stationed in Austria with the occupation forces.

Edith arrived here last Sunday after a flight that took her from Vienna to Turin, Italy, across Germany and into London before ending at New York City's La Guardia field on Dec. 29.

When 15 years of age she suffered a leg fracture when a home in which she sought refuge during the bombing was wrecked. She was pinned in the cellar by the debris for two hours before being extricated. A year's hospitalization followed and she walks with a limp as a result of the injury.

Robert was inducted into service on Nov. 10, 1943, and was trained at Camp Wolters, Texas, and Camp Breckinridge, Ky., before being sent overseas with 75th Infantry division. He was wounded in the leg on Jan. 8, 1945 (he recalls it as happening at 10:30 p. m.) during the Battle of the Bulge. After weeks of hospitalization he returned to his Bellville home in May but soon re-enlisted.

As a member of Company B, 5th Infantry division, he helped guard prisoners of war at Camp Perry and had numerous other assignments until being sent to Vienna with the occupation troops. He was discharged on June 22, 1947.

ROBERT KODGER AND EDITH SINGER

A soldier buddy introduced Robert to Edith at the Red Cross center two years ago as Edith accompanied the soldier and her girl friend to the center.

Their 'understanding' was fulfilled with her arrival in the United States just prior to the ban on admittance of additional foreign brides-to-be. Robert, an employe at the Carnation Milk company plant here, has been saving diligently to provide the transportation costs for Edith.

Robert has two brothers and two sisters while Edith has one brother, Leopold, 26, who was wounded in the leg and arm while in the Austrian army and fighting on the Russian front.

Edith has made excellent progress in her study of the English language but still finds it difficult to keep pace with conversations. She enjoys being in this country and is amazed at the wealth of foodstuffs, clothing and autos to be seen everywhere.

She says rationing limits Austrians to such an extent that meat is served only on Sundays and the meals lack variety. She can't understand as Mrs. Kodger fixes more than one thing for a single meal. Only the wealthy Austrians live comfortably and that is through black market activities, she pointed out.

Stocks Rise, Volume High For Second Day In a Row

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market shot ahead today for the second day in a row.

Fresh gains of 1 to 3 points were piled on yesterday's rise, one of the sharpest of the past year.

Volume expanded well above recent levels and hit a pace which would carry the day's total above the 1,000,000-share mark.

The two-day advance was a direct aftermath of the president's state of the union message to Congress on Wednesday.

Chrysler moved in front of the market with a jump of 3 points. Demand reflected an increase in the dividend to $1.25 a share from the $1 paid in previous quarters. The stock opened 2⅜ higher on a sale of 4,000 shares and later extended the gain.

Crowd Sees Make-up Show

A capacity crowd saw Prof. William Craig, of the dramatics department of the College of Wooster; demonstrate make-up at the Minnick Beauty Salon Tuesday night.

The demonstration was sponsored by Mansfield's Little Theater with Mrs. Sheldon Clark in charge of arrangements. Taking a person from the audience as his subject, Prof. Craig showed how to make up for various types of individuals, including a count with goatee, tramp, bearded man, suave young man, a teen-ager and a minstrel character.

He explained the technique of make-up as he went along, providing an interesting commentary for those interested in drama.

Mrs. Pearl Minnick and her beauty students assisted in the demonstration.

Fire Causes Minor Damage

Minor damage to two Mansfield homes was caused yesterday by either faulty construction of a fireplace or an overheated furnace, firemen said.

Central station, No. 3 and No. 5 firemen went to 985 Sunset boulevard yesterday afternoon when a house under construction was slightly damaged when a furnace, left open to dry plaster, ignited the sub-flooring.

A fireplace, said by firemen to have been poorly constructed, set fire to a partition and ceiling at the home of Mrs. Ellen Staples, 545 Oakenwaldt avenue, at 11:36 p. m. Firemen from No. 4 and 2 stations answered the call.

At 8:36 p. m. No. 3 station men went to the home of G. S. Cretors, 155 Reba avenue, where a chimney was burning out. Firemen said there was no damage.

Shelby Picks School Heads

SHELBY—J. A. Anderson was re-elected for the third straight term as president of the Shelby school board at a meeting of the board last night in the high school.

Paul Curry was elected vice president and San Weaver, commercial teacher at the high school, was employed as the new clerk-treasurer after the resignation of Betty Hursh was accepted by the board last night. Mrs. Caroline Koontz was employed to teach two classes of shorthand. She will take over one of the classes taught by Weaver.

A report of the financial condition of the school board was presented to the board members. The balance in the general fund as of Jan. 1 was listed at $24,581.92. The board last night approved the transfer of a plot of land 20 by 80 to the city for the construction of housing facilities for the new fire fighting equipment expected to arrive late in May.

Masculine War Bride Enjoys Self In U. S.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Cleveland's most masculine "war bride" currently is having the time of his life in the United States — and that "his" is no typographical error.

Tall, blonde blue-eyed Tedeusz Leroch, 27, formerly of Lwow, Poland, technically is the "bride," under provisions of the War Bride act.

Leroch, accompanied by his real bride, Sergt. Alice B. Ruch of Cleveland, was one of the last persons to enter the country under provisions of the act before it expired.

The couple met a year ago in Wiesbaden, Germany, where Leroch was a civilian guard attached to an air force police squadron. They were married last Nov. 13.

Air Force Scraps Old Army Tests

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The Air Force today adopted a new airmen's classification test, designed to measure aptitudes for individuals' skills more than overall ability.

The new test system replaces the army's general classification test which concentrates on determining an enlisted man's general capabilities. The new test requires two days for completion and consists of eight major groups of related specialties.

Dominion Calls 75 Workers Back; 75 More Due Soon

The Dominion Electric company has begun to call back employes who were laid off during November and will have 75 of them back on their jobs by Monday, company officials said today.

Another 75 who had been laid off because of the seasonal slump in the demand for electrical products will be recalled about Feb. 1, according to present plans, officials said.

A total of 175 employes were laid off during the midde two weeks of November because of slackening of production. At the time, officials had said the lay-offs were of a temporary nature.

Officials explained that the upswing in employment begins now as the factory goes into the production of electrical fans.

When the 150 employes have been rebired, the number of Dominion employes will total 850.

Girl Scout Meeting Set

An organizational meeting for all Girl Scouts in grades nine through 12 who are interested in joining a senior Girl Scout basketball league will be held at Rebecca Grubaugh school gymnasium at 9 a. m., Saturday.

Mrs. Virginia Kirby, girls' worker for the City Recreation department, will be in charge of the meeting.

Girls will be organized in teams to play each Saturday morning throughout the winter and spring months.

The league is being sponsored by the City Recreation department and the Mansfield Girl Scouts in cooperation with the Mansfield board of education.

Wrong Plates Bring $5 Fine

James Au, Mansfield, R. D. 6, was fined $5 and costs in municipal court today for operating a motor vehicle with license plates issued to another vehicle.

Paul Schiefer, Chatfield, O., was fined $25 and costs for malicious destruction of property. He had been charged with breaking windows in an automobile owned by Raymond Kline, 513, Howard street. On condition that he pay damages to the car, $15 of the fine was suspended.

Bombers Readied For Alaska Duty

WASHINGTON, —(UP) — Officers at air force headquarters confirmed today that B-36 superbombers, the world's largest, are being prepared for operations in strategic Alaska.

The move is in line with the air force practice of familiarizing its airmen with bases and flyng conditions all over the world. Many military men regard Alaska as a vital outpost in planning defense against a transpolar attack.

12 Sign Up For Trip

Twelve persons have signed up to make the trip to Washington for the president's inaugural, Russell Moore, in charge of arrangements, announced today.

Richland county Democrats plan to charter a pullman car for the trip if enough city-council residents sign up for the trip. Moore said 15 more are needed.

Plans call for the special car to be put on the Pennsylvania train, leaving here about 8:30 p. m. Jan. 19 for arrival in Washington on the 20th, date of the inaugural and returning to Mansfield next morning.

Persons interested should contact Moore, or Ralph Lutz, of Lexington, chairman of the executive committee, or Marshall C. Moore, chairman of the central committee.

Mauna Spits Fiery Lava

HILO, Hawaii — (AP) — Lava tumbling down erupting Mauna Loa's steep banks was accelerating today. The big volcano erupted violently late yesterday.

The fiery flow, pouring from the snow-capped mountain, was moving in three streams estimated to be 12 to 15 miles long down the western slope.

If it maintains its present pace and direction, said Air Force Captain Orval D. Collings of Los Angeles, it will reach the big island of Hawaii's western coast slightly north of the town of Keokea sometime during the day.

Unless the flow is blocked or slowed, the highway along the coast will be cut. Keokea is about 20 miles west of Mauna Loa's summit crater and about six miles southeast of the Captain Cook monument.

Meeting Off

A scheduled meeting of the park board was postponed last night due to the absence of two of its members. Glenn L. Bierly was in Cleveland for the day and Paul Tappan is in Florida.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1949

The new year arrived just a week ago tonight—and, by the way, how are those resolutions holding out?

One observer comments: "You're getting old when you won't look at the calendar to see on what day of the new year your birthday falls."

The assurance, "After all, your success in 1949 is just up to you," seems to eliminate the idea that folks down in Washington will do all that is expected of them.

Early Guidance Urged By Glattke

TIMELINESS can be seen in the talk given by Arthur L. Glattke, Ohio State Reformatory superintendent, at this week's meeting of the Buckeye Sheriffs' association in Columbus.

Closely following the electrocution of 24-year-old Murl Daniels, a former reformatory inmate, Mr. Glattke could scarcely have failed to be impressed by the need of greater efforts to prevent young people from falling into the pattern of behavior that so frequently leads to minor offenses and then to some form of major crime.

It is a somewhat new thought that the sheriff's office should become a part of a crime prevention program, at least in this county, as no steps along such lines have ever been discernible.

"It becomes more and more apparent," said Mr. Glattke, "that our efforts must be directed primarily toward the youth of our state. We must exert our influence, when they have their first run-in with the law, regardless of how trivial the offense. . . . We must work on these youngsters before their ideas and attitudes become crystallized. If we don't we'll have to do it in prison, and then it may be too late to effect a permanent cure."

Law enforcement looms as a vital step toward crime prevention, and it is regrettable that, as a matter of courtesy, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys in some counties, including Richland, adopt a "hands off" policy toward negligence in law enforcement by police officers in cities within the county—as is being done in Mansfield where anti-gambling laws are being sedulously ignored, despite the recognized fact that commercialized gambling is a frequent early step toward what are regarded as more serious violations of law.

Battle Against Cancer Gains Force

ESTABLISHING of the Mansfield Cancer Foundation is such a remarkably fine and sensible thing, the wonder is it hadn't been done before. But it hadn't. And now citizens of the community have an organization, headed by thoroughly reputable people, which will accept contributions and see that ALL of the money is used locally.

Little need be said about cancer or the fight against it. This city's Cancer Diagnostic and Detection Clinic represents an outstanding example of the only real way to battle the disease that is known to science: catch it early.

With the operation of the Foundation, the local clinic should soon have enough money available to purchase more and better equipment and expand its services—provided you, the public, see that your contributions get to the Foundation promptly and in good size.

Youngster Called 'Ordained Minister'

WHILE California has long been a fertile field for development of religious oddities, a new high in absurdity appears to have been reached in the reported episode of a marriage ceremony having been performed by a 5-year-old boy who is an "ordained minister."

That such a solemn occasion as a marriage should thus be subjected to ridicule can be explained only by the laxity of state laws which would permit a pre-school age child to be "ordained" to the ministry.

Chief justifiable complaint, in at least a few instances, is the ease with which the title, "Rev." is attained in some religious organizations, and the resultant publicity when a totally unfitted person misbehaves or falls afoul of the law. If the California marriage performed by a 5-year-old "minister" is held to be legal, then that state surely needs revamping of the law that made such a farce possible.

Effort To Help German Doctors

AS A RESULT of the nazi government interference in the field of medical education, German medical men found themselves, at the end of war, at least ten years behind the times in training and knowledge.

The three Western powers are now attempting to remedy this condition by making post-graduate study courses available to practicing physicians. The Medical Academy in the United States sector of Berlin offers a well-planned program making use of the facilities and clinical opportunities in two large hospitals.

Much repair work has been necessary on the bombed buildings, and this was proceeding satisfactorily until the imposition of the Russian blockade, which has cut off building supplies. The plan is being carried out in spite of this drawback, however, and is offering courses to all licensed physicians in or near Berlin.

According to a statement by Maj. Richmond Paine, chief of the United States military government public health branch, the courses "fill a definite and very real need and are expected to do much to raise the professional standards of the practicing German medical profession to their former eminence."

Germany was long considered the fountainhead of medical knowledge. Those countries which have had the good fortune to make rapid progress during the hiatus of German learning do well to take steps toward repayment of their debt.

Claude Callan observes: "We used to teach our children, but they are teaching us now, and they're not as patient with us as we were with them."

Word comes that bald-headed Britons are being supplied with wigs free—but it may be hoped they are not compelled to wear them.

What Some Other People Are Saying

REP. HOLIFIELD (D-Cal): "President Wilson had his square deal, President Roosevelt had his new deal and I think President Truman has come into his own and will give the people a true deal."

* * *

CHAIRMAN M'CARRAN (D-Nev) of the Senate judiciary committee: "I have introduced a bill which would compel every state to give full faith and credit to divorces granted in every other state."

* * *

ISAAC DON LEVINE, anti-communist editor: "The public has not heard the last of the Duggan-Chambers affair. It's too early to whitewash the man or convict him."

Communist Offensive Long-Term Affair

AMERICA'S direct-spoken ambassador to Moscow, Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, has given us a line which should be chiseled into every doorstep of democracy—lest we forget.

Discussing Russo-American relations at a press conference in Pittsburgh, the general said he felt things might continue in their present state indefinitely without worsening or bettering. He added:

"We can't afford to allow ourselves to be lullied into a false sense of security; neither can we afford to become hysterical. . . . We must view this as a long term thing. The Russian Politburo (core of the Soviet dictatorship) also thinks in terms of years."

That puts the thing in a nutshell, not only for the United States but for all the democracies. So, leaving the ambassador out of further discussion, let's examine the situation from that standpoint.

We are in for a long, hard fight. It might last another generation—to generations. There's no gauge by which to make an estimate.

But it could be fatal if we didn't recognize that our greatest danger lies in allowing ourselves to be lulled into a sense of security by any seeming slackening of the Moscow drive. We must beware of Red Trojan horses.

You bet the politburo thinks in terms of years! It is in process of remolding the whole world politically and economically. It is trying to destroy religion and substitute a code of immorality which is a throwback to the days of barbarism.

* * *

Part of Vast Project.

THE PRESENT cold war is merely an incident in this vast project. Lenin was building for a war of generations when he laid down the Bolshevist code.

Stalin has shown in all his moves that he has been preparing for a long fight. He has been methodical and crafty. He has refused to be hurried in developing the world revolution, as witness his fight with Trotsky over that very issue. Trotsky wanted to rush things—and Stalin stepped on him.

So that's the kind of conflict we are up against. It isn't a matter which can be settled in the cold war of Europe. Even a shooting war between Russia and the democracies wouldn't settle it. For in the generation during which the Red revolution already has been under way it has installed itself by craft and crime in every country.

Communist espionage long has been going on in America and other nations. The un-American activities committee of the House of Representatives stated a few days ago "the committee knows . . . that there are communists in government today."

The Red ism is straining every nerve to gain control of trade unions the world over. It is spreading insidious propaganda through schools. It is overlooking no bets—but it is reconciled to the idea that it is committed to a long-range fight.

Because of the nature of this Bolshevist offensive it can be dealt with only as we would handle ordinary crime. We've got to hunt it down and treat it as we would any other gangsterism.

This doesn't mean that we have to refuse all dealings with Russia. While there is no hope of making any deal whereby the whole conflict could be called off, there are things on which the communists might compromise because of self-interest. These relatively minor compromises might delay or even avert another World war.

That's the kind of conflict we are up against. It will have to run its course, barring successful revolt among the wretched Soviet satellite countries.

The grand strategy of the Bolshevists is to knock us off one at a time. Therefore our cue, and the cue of all other democratic countries, is to wage unceasing war against the inroads of communism at home, while joining in the general defense in theatres like Western Europe.

The Nation Today

New Deal Being Revived

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — President Truman is picking up the New Deal where President Roosevelt dropped it 10 years ago.

With few exceptions, Mr. Truman's message to Congress goes straight back to Mr. Roosevelt and the New Deal days and even beyond.

For that reason the most unusual thing about Mr. Truman's message was how little there was new in it.

The New Deal really lasted only five years, from 1933 to 1938. Then it was pretty well abandoned while the country prepared for war.

So Mr. Truman, as an examination of his message will show, apparently considers the New Deal unfinished business.

Some of it he tried to start going himself as far back as 1945, but he got nowhere. Now he's moving, full steam ahead.

Here, item by item, are points in the message:

Pre-paid medical insurance: President Hoover's medical committee in 1932 recommended this. Succeeding congresses did nothing although as long ago as 1938 Senator Wagner New Deal Democrat of New York, began introducing bills for medical insurance.

Bring more people under social security: The social security program was first set up under Roosevelt in 1935.

Low-Rent Public Housing: Back in the early part of Roosevelt's presidency the government built low-rent projects and later helped widely without direct building.

Civil rights program, with a fair employment practices committee (FEPC), an anti-lynching law, and an anti-poll tax law: Roosevelt wanted an FEPC. He said the government ought to suppress lynching. Bills to outlaw the poll tax have been in Congress 20 years.

St. Lawrence seaway and power project: Roosevelt wanted this as far back as 1934.

A new government department covering health, education and social security: Roosevelt proposed a social welfare department like that in 1937.

Department of labor rebuilt and strengthened: Roosevelt asked for this in a special message to Congress in 1938.

Federal aid to education: Roosevelt's Democratic party had this in its platform when he was elected to a fourth term in 1944.

Strengthen anti-trust laws: Roosevelt asked for this in a special message to Congress in 1938.

Price supports for farmers: Government price helps to farmers, in one way or another, were set up back in 1933.

Rural electrification should be expanded: The government set up the REA in 1935 to get electricity to the country's farms, and at cheap prices.

Soil conservation act: Mr Roosevelt's New Deal Congress in 1935 passed the first of his administration's conservation acts.

Push forward development of rivers for power, irrigation, navigation and flood control: Roosevelt worked on this, too.

Apply the lessons learned from the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) to other river basins: Roosevelt asked Congress to set up seven systems like TVA.

Authority to regulate speculation on commodity exchanges: Roosevelt asked for that as long ago as 1934.

Raise minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents: The idea of the minimum wage for people in Interstate Commerce started with the New Deal.

* * *

Little That's New.

SO MUCH for the New Deal roots in Mr. Truman's program.

His request for government authority to build steel mills, if Congress thinks they're necessary, is new. So is his request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase. Those are about the only brand new things in his message. These are to meet problems Roosevelt didn't face.

Mr. Truman asked for universal military training but he's asked for that before, and that was a problem Roosevelt didn't face, either.

Mr. Truman says he wants the Taft-Hartley law repealed. He's said that before. Roosevelt probably would have said the same thing but there was no such law in his time.

The few other points in his message—like continuing control of consumer credit, enlarging power to control bank credit, continuing export control authority—are old stuff. Mr. Truman is just asking to keep them going or make them stronger.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, Jan. 7, 1929.

It was announced that building would be erected on Roy Dickson lot, west of Third street market, for Sears-Roebuck store.

Newly elected county officials took office, including Prosecuting Attorney G. E. Kalbfleisch, Engineer Albert L. Allen and Commissioners John C. Friday and G. W. McFarland. James V. Will, of Shelby, was appointed assistant prosecutor.

George Kreischer was transferred to Alliance by Ohio Public Service company and moved family to that city.

Mrs. Adam Mayer, 74, died at her home, 20 Vale avenue.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Elliott, 97 East First street.

Fire damaged Sherman Bowden hatchery, South Main street road, to estimated extent of $10,000.

Louis W. Dysart, 78, died at the home of his son, Ora, 35 Vennum avenue.

Glenn G. Rohleder was elected president of Mansfield Teachers' association.

Truman Makes His Own Decisions Now

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Those who sat with President Truman as he wrote his resounding State of the Union message noticed an all-important change.

No longer does he defer to Secretary of the Treasury Snyder or to other conservative advisers. He listens to them, but does not defer. He makes his own decisions, regardless of their advice.

In the old pre-election days before the nation turned the pollsters, the predicters and the politicians upside down, John Snyder, long-trusted and conservative Truman friend, was the most effective chopper-upper of congressional messages.

He waited until the time was ripe — usually outside the executive office door—and popped in to give his advice after all the others had finished. Usually his advice stuck.

The recent message to Congress saw Snyder working just as hard to water down New Deal sections of the speech — without success. His soft-spoken caution, "Don't you think you're going a little too far, Mr. President?" or "I don't think you ought to do that, Mr. President," brought an equally soft-spoken but positive rejoinder from the little man in question.

"No, John," replied Mr. Truman, "we're going to do it this way."

Four cabinet members united as a team to tone down the State of the Union message, especially references to corporate taxes—Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, Acting Secretary of State Lovett, and Snyder. They worked together beautifully, timing their conferences with Truman so that he never guessed what they were up to.

However, he didn't weaken. His reply in every case was:

"This is what the people voted for and this is what they're going to get."

* * *

Truman Leads Congress.

THERE has been another change in the President since election day. He is working much more closely with the leaders on Capitol Hill. Three months went by last winter without a conference with Barkley and Sam Rayburn, but now Truman has had them in for frequent conferences and even called on Speaker Rayburn personally the day Congress opened.

Truman confides to friends that if there are any compromises to be made, he'll make 'em; for he knows what the traffic can bear.

"The leadership didn't campaign in this election," the President told intimates, referring to committee chairmen rather than Barkley and Rayburn.

The leaders get to be leaders because of seniority, Truman continued. Thus leadership comes easiest for those from the soft districts and states where they don't have to campaign.

"I campaigned in almost every district," he added, "and I know that the people are watching this Congress."

That obviously is why Truman is watching it, too. He can't afford to have another fiasco like the 80th Congress on his hands.

* * *

Army Intelligence.

DURING the war Army commanders were plagued with faulty intelligence reports—such as the one that had President Truman in a dither last spring and which caused him to make the Kansas City speech about division inside the Kremlin.

Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Bradley suffered one of the worst setbacks in the Battle of the Bulge as a result of a bad intelligence report, with the result that he privately confides:

"If I had believed all my intelligence reports, I would still be shivering on the Normandy beachhead."

* * *

Mice In the Senate.

STRAY mice and homeless cockroaches scampered around the Senate Office Building last week frightening lady stenographers and hunting new places to hide.

They were flushed out by the activity of moving new senators in and old senators out.

Strange as it may seem—or not seem—the pests had made their homes right in the private sanctuaries with the senators themselves.

Reason: The senators eat in their offices and spill crumbs. Meanwhile, Senate housekeepers have ordered more potent cockroach poison.

Assignment: America

Depression Ruled Out

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Clare Boothe Luce, the glamor girl with gray matter, is home from a long cross-country tour with the clear-cut conviction that the United States may be headed for a third World war but never for a depression.

The reason is as simple as A-B-C, says this Delphic Sibyl in sables: The American people will not put up with another depression under any circumstances.

Furthermore, Americans don't believe they are under any historic necessity of having either pestilence.

On a long lecture tour, during which she criss-crossed the nation like Sarah Bernhardt on a farewell tour, Mrs. Luce stopped, looked and listened to multitudes of her fellow citizens.

Very few were fancy folks with any special knowledge of economics or the Dow-Jones theory. Most of them were just John Q. Doakes, with a grim determination never again to stand in bread lines, rake leaves or sell apples.

The former congresswoman found everywhere an abhorrence of war. But she found an even deeper aversion to a depression such as touched almost every American family in the early thirties.

"The country doesn't want either war or depression," she said in her ivory tower at the Waldorf-Astoria, "but of the two, it is more afraid of a depression.

"There is either going to be a third World war or a great era of peace. But there isn't going to be any depression because the American people just won't have one. The people have made up their minds and that's that."

* * *

Depression Hit Hardest.

EVEN two World wars with their bloodshed and sorrows failed to shake the nation with the wretched anguish it suffered during the depression years.

At least in war, men and women felt vital, necessary and purposeful. The depression scarred millions with the feeling they were useless, aimless and unwanted.

As Mrs. Luce, more beautiful, blonde and sharper than ever, mulled over these facts in Pullmans, small-town hotels and dog-wagons, she realized that her fellow-citizens had two unvarying characteristics in every part of the nation:

(1) Extraordinary common-sense, and

(2) Persistent, over-easy optimism. ("Americans just cannot believe that men like Stalin mean business.")

The depression, she believes, was a direct contradiction of America's inborn optimism. Men and machines lay idle. Our individual and collective pride was crushed.

But World War II restored the nation's confidence in itself by demonstrating all over again the nation's strength, know-how, skill and genius for getting things done. The lady ran her long, slim fingers ruefully through her short blonde curls and said:

"War proved again that there was truth in the American dream. We all say 'O, boy! You can lick the whole world if you're an American'!"

Mrs. Luce believes we can have both peace and plenty if the nation will gear its productive capacity to the limitless civilian peacetime needs of Europe and Asia. Both continents need "things" far more than money in her shrewd judgment.

She defines "things" as any kind of goods that will raise the standard of living abroad until people demand such a rising standard continuously.

Not only will we keep ourselves busy and happy and our friends abroad fed and clothed if we start producing for peace, but we will put an increasingly rapid brake on communism, Mrs. Luce pointed out.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

SINCE the President's State of the Union speech some are saying he was better on the back platform with cinders and Dewey in his hair.

* * *

But Mr. Truman's decision that poverty is unnecessary was well received. . . From now on the poor will please stop being poor.

* * *

It was good to hear him talk about sharing the wealth but he really didn't need to . . . the treasury had already told Benny.

* * *

It was no surprise that Gov. Dewey will not send a float to the inauguration parade. . . To one so recently sunk "float" is a bad word.

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, it looks like the super movie thriller to be put on by President Truman will be "The New Deal" or "Through the Rapids With Hatchet and Vacuum Cleaner" in technicolor.

* * *

He made the Roosevelt program look as old-fashioned as a Keystone film. In fact, Harry's script had all the elements of a blood-and-thunder "western."

* * *

I couldn't see where he left out anything except a program for two yolks in every egg, federal scalp massage and government protection against record high tides and sudden frosts.

* * *

Harry asked for his complete program, together with a balanced budget and a big cut in the national debt. He forgot to specify that to do this trick we would also need a magic wand.

* * *

I never realized before that so many billions of dollars could be handed through one battery of microphones.

* * *

You couldn't find fault with any of the fine objectives asked for in the interest of more happiness for more people, but you couldn't help wondering how they can be attained at the deserved speed without two Aladdins' lamps in every garage and a "schmoo" in every pot.

Farmer's Diary

Consider the Honey-Bee

By CALVIN A. BYERS

BEES go with a prosperous land. They are mentioned in ancient lore. They have had—and still do have—a real part in our American history. Personally I believe there is no other thing alive so powerful for its size, so admirable for its work, so inspirational in its approach to the universe.

Both my grandfathers kept bees. When I ate at their tables I can never remember when there was not a yellow comb of honey on a wooden plate. Since we had no bees at home, the flow of sticky syrup as it ran from the cells cut with a table knife, was very interesting. I especially liked it on grandmother's homemade bread, crusty and warm.

Its rich flavor seemed to contain the pleasing bitterness of wild lettuce, dandelion, sparkling white clover. Sometimes I thought I tasted the fragrance of apple bloom, wild rose or the locust tree. All provoked a young boy's appetite for, flavors he deeply enjoyed but could almost never satisfy.

There were bee men who brought large flat honey combs which my mother exchanged for homecured bacon or sausage links. I often took a chunk of honey along when I went to watch our cattle in the field.

Watching cattle was work a small boy could do, and saved building fence. It was a common practice in our community. Sometimes, along an old rail fence, I would sit and open my treasured honey, making the flavor last and observing the structure of the cells.

How skilful and accurate were these workmen, who made each cell wall with six smooth faces! Where did they find the wax? What would happen if the flower were poison like nettles or poison ivy? So a small boy's wonderment. And what a wallop the bee had, for its own defense! Everybody must respect it.

The state of Utah has the old-fashioned cone-shaped hive for its state emblem. The Mormons who settled Utah were bee-keeping folk who admired the organization of the busy hive and patterned their own after it. "Deseret," Hebrew for honey-bee, was the name proposed by the Mormons for their state when it was about to enter the Union. The honey-bee is mentioned often in the Bible. Mohammed claimed that of all earth's creatures, God spoke directly only to the bee.

Our land needs more bees. They pollinate fruits, clovers, and vegetables. Their honey is a by-product that brings health because it is a natural, easily digested sweet. Farmers should give serious thought to how to bring more bees into each community.

One distinguished apiarist declares that the honey-bee has fifteen times the value to fruit, vegetable, and alfalfa growers that it has to the beekeeper!

Nuptial Vows Exchanged at United Brethren Church

IN A FORMAL CEREMONY at the United Brethren church, Park avenue east, Miss Frances Ellen Davis became the bride of Robert J. Harper, Jan. 2, at 5:30 p. m. Many friends and relatives were in attendance for the nuptial rite which was open church.

Given in marriage by her brother, John Edward Davis, the bride wore an ivory satin gown made with round yoke of silk nylon and a wide satin bertha. The bodice was tight fitting with long sleeves which came to points over the hands. The skirt was full with a long train. The veil of silk net was edged with wide lace, worn mantilla style over a beaded tiara. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom's parents.

MRS. R. J. HARPER

She carried a white Bible, topped with white roses and tied with white satin streamers.

Rev. F. D. Barnes officiated for the service and Mrs. H. F. Mills played the program of nuptial music. Soloist was Claude Sheffield.

Palms, two beauty baskets of white mums, and two seven-branch candelabra formed a pretty background for the service. White ribbons marked the pews.

Attendants for the bride were her close frienrs, Miss Eileen Newman of Canton, who wore pink taffeta; Miss Barbara Staples of Mansfield, also in pink; Miss Wanda Sowrey of Columbus, and Miss Jacquelyn See of Mansfield, both in gold; and Miss Joyce Hargo, maid of honor, who wore blue.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Davis, 235 East First street, and Mr. Harper's parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Harper, 311 East Second steret.

James Harper of Mansfield, brother of the groom, served as best man.

A reception was held from 7 to 9 p. m. at the YWCA. When the couple left for a honeymoon trip the bride wore a dark green two-piece suit with brown accessories. They are now at home at 235 East First street.

The bride was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is in the obstetric division at Mansfield General hospital. Mr. Harper, a graduate of Mansfield high school, served three years in the Army in the Pacific theater of war. He is employed at Norton's Shoe Repair Shop.

Guests were in attendance from Chicago, Detroit, Norwalk, Canton, Youngstown and Columbus.

SISTERHOOD MEETING

B'nai B'rith Sisterhood will meet Sunday evening at 8:15 at the B'nai Jacob temple for a regular business meeting. Refreshments will be served at the close of the session.

MEET SATURDAY

Members of the Junior American Legion will meet Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Legion Home.

Miriam Rebekah Lodge Holds Installation of Officers

INSTALLATION of recently-elected officers featured the meeting of Miriam Rebekah lodge, 388, in the I.O.O.F. hall Wednesday night.

Mrs. George Heuss, deputy president, conducted the ceremony when the following officers were installed:

Mrs. Grace Pocock, noble grand; Mrs. Bert Schafer, vice grand; Miss Lois Addlesperger, financial secretary; Mrs. Clyde Neff, treasurer; Mrs. Orpha Burns, warden; Miss Luena Hinkle, conductor; Mrs. Merle Black, chaplain; Mrs. Fred Tinkey, musican; Mrs. Huess, right supporter to the Noble Grand; Mrs. Ray Kennedy, left supporter; Mrs. Harry DeYarmon and Mrs. Galen Zohman, right and left supporter to the vice grand; Mrs. Fred Ammeter, side guardian and Mrs. S. S. Stevens, outside guardian.

Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Ammeter were named to the visiting committee, while the finance committee will include Mrs. Schafer, Mrs. Ammeter and Mrs. Charles Addlesperger, Mrs. Earl Beamer and Mrs. Edith Duffy will serve on the flower committee.

Mrs. Heuss was assisted in the installation services by Mrs. Emma Smith, reputy marshal; Mrs. Frank Culp, deputy warden; Mrs. Nora Bentley, deputy secretary; Mrs. J. W. Leistensnider, deputy treasurer; Mrs. B. T. Dawson, deputy chaplain; Mrs. George Berg, deputy musician; Mrs. Duffey, deputy inside guardian, and Mrs. Charles Addlesperger deputy outside guardian, all past noble grands.

Mrs. Schafer, president of the degree staff, announced plans for a covered dish dinner to be held Wednesday, Jan. 12, at 6 o'clock in the hall dining room, with a social hour to follow.

For the installation ceremony the hall was decorated with palms and large vases of flowers. Mrs. Pocock was presented with an orchid corsage by her supporters while installing officers received pink rose corsages from Mrs. Heuss. Each of the new officers was presented with pink and green carnation corsages, the lodge colors, from Mrs. Pocock.

Gifts also were given from the retiring officers, the Misses Lenora and Anna Horn, and the past press correspondent, to Mrs. Markley. These presentations were made by Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. John Leistensnider and Mrs. Clyde Neff.

The next regular meeting will be Jan. 19. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the retiring officers with Mrs. Emma Smith as chairman.

Miss Remy to Head E. T. Club

Miss Jeanette Remy was elected president of the E. T. club at their meeting at the home of Mrs. Arminta Collins, Hedges street. Elected to serve with her are Mrs. Fred Mansfield, vice president; Miss Marguerite Goetz, secretary; Mrs. Leo Saltzgaber, treasurer, and Miss Ethel McClure, corresponding secretary. Thirteen members were in attendance.

Contests were the diversion of the evening with prizes going to Miss Freda Boebel, Mrs. Louise Adams, Miss McClure and Miss Clara Yeager.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Yeager, 48 South Diamond street, Jan. 18.

A modern version of the fish pond game is a good bathtub and rainy day toy. The game has six permanently inflated plastic fish and two poles. The fish are caught by the small magnet on the end of the line coming in contact with the metal on the mouth of the fish.

Bible Class Meets at Welkers

Mrs. Martin Welker, East Arch street, was hostess to members of the Findley-Anderson Bible class of the United Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Eva Miller served as associate hostess and presided for devotions.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. Fred Proctor. Roll call was answered on scripture verses beginning with the letter "T". The afternoon was spent socially during which time refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held Feb. 2 at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson, 667 Highland avenue.

HOROSCOPE

For Saturday, January 8.
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

ALTHOUGH difficulties and complexities still obtain, with some hard knots to untie, add strange urges to control, yet, according to benefic aspects of the stellar forces, a sudden breaking away of such stringent and strenuous predicament may be assisted by a happy, pleasant and potent use of social, sentimental or creative aids or possibly by the abrupt intervention of a peculiar, unorthodox or dramatic event. A bright original idea, a sudden friendship, or contact with new and ingenious talents, and skills, could turn the tide with thrilling effect.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, may prepare for a year of the spectacular, novel, and dynamic, with some stroke of originality or genius. This may lead to strange or sentimental contacts in which change, romance and progressive adventures may give pleasure as well as prove inspiring and incite to conspicuous achievement. Home ties, business and public relations prove dramatic. Wrong tactic, false attitudes and mistakes yield to soft words or acts.

A child born on this day has a progressive as well as versatile nature, aggressive and strenuous as well as socially, romantic and amiably disposed. Unexpected events may bring change and thrills into its turbulent life.

Seek U. S. Aid In River Pact

CINCINNATI—(AP) — Federal aid for Ohio river municipalities needing funds for stream pollution abatement was favored here Wednesday by the Ohio River Valley Water anitation commission.

Chairman Hudson Biery, said the group is attempting to encourage federal aid for cities which are financially unable to build their own sewage disposal plants.

Fred H. Waring of Columbus, chief of the Ohio Health department, was named a member of a committee to fix standards for treatment of sewage entering the Cincinnati pool between dams 36 and 37.

The standards to be fixed will determine the degree of river purification to be achieved in the pool region by sewage treatment.

Adolf Berle Flayed For Keeping Silence On Chambers' Revelations

BECAUSE he represented himself as a wise guy who saw that the Russians were turning against us, Adolf A. Berle, an assistant secretary of state from February, 1938, to December, 1944, came out of the hearings of the committee on un-American activities with a better press than he deserved. He can be called a Good New Dealer only in the sense that the Good Thief might have been worse.

An impudent gang they were, bandying the fate of the country from clique to clique, tattling and scheming in a feline rivalry for place.

They never soiled their pretty hands in the war they hailed in freedom's holy cause. Alger Hiss, a fitter man to fight the nazi than a million trembling American adolescents who did, was one of those exquisite indispensables.

Berle, a precocious pixie, had bobbed up at the age of 23 as an "expert on the staff of the American commission to negotiate peace with Germany in 1918." Impudence runs through his testimony before the reviled committee of Congress which exposed the awful band too late.

On August 23, 1939, Whittaker Chambers spent several hours revealing to Berle a conspiracy to steal secret information from our state department where Berle was assistant secretary of state, and turn it over to Muscovite spies. Now Berle quibbles and Bloviates in his pompous virtue, the great intellect who shrewdly detected Russia's treachery toward the United States years after simpler men had seen the truth with the naked eye. It wasn't exactly a conspiracy. It wasn't that they were communists. It wasn't fair to be suspicious—.

But Isaac Don Levine, who grew weary plodding from one fourflusher's door to another, smashed down this barricade of quibbles. "Chambers," he said, "unfolded (to Berle) a picture which showed a systematic, highly organized apparatus looting not only the state department but government files in many other bureaus in Washington."

What did this supercilious cookie-pusher do? Did Mr. Berle raise hell to protect his country from treachery? Or did he just curl up and accept a dainty departmental rebuff as a personal setback in a harmless game?

You have his answer in the record: "Mr. Hiss did take what we today would call a pro-Russian point of view. I got trimmed in that fight and, as a result, went off to Brazil (as ambassador) and that ended my diplomatic career."

These were terrible charges even though Berle, from Harvard law, of course, seemed to think that his own defeat in an elfin joust and the termination of his "diplomatic career" were events of greater importance in the story of mankind.

Why didn't he make something happen? Why did he wait almost ten years and reveal it to the people only when it was dredged out of his reticence by the abused and almost discredited committee of Congress?

Berle had the power to stop this whole thing. He had the brains to measure the danger and truly decide what duty was.

Walter Winchell

Politicians Made History, But History Now Breaks Politicians

MR. AND MRS. UNITED STATES!

Once upon a time politicians made history, but in this 20th century history breaks politicians. . . . This is what history demands—and this is what you may expect in 1949. . . . Higher taxes, because you can't save dollars when you must save your cities . . . We've got to have a greater air force, and you can't put a plane up without putting down the coin.

We are also going to have a larger draft. That's because you can't stop a man from waving a fist under your nose by waving a dollar in his face . . . You are throwing away dollars if you think they will save you from having to throw your Sunday punch . . . Labor will continue to get high wages because the government needs production and production needs men.

Profits will continue so large that Wall Street will still be able to buy its monogrammed crying towels . . . In short, you can rely on it, 1949 will be a great year for men and nations who have learned to rely on themselves.

Some writers have tried to mislead readers by claiming newspapermen who have criticized some members and methods of the un-American Activities Committee have given comfort to Communists. . . . This reporter has never criticized the aim of that committee only the slip-shod methods of some of its members. We rapped Dies and Rankin because both failed to carry out promised investigation of Fascists and Communists.

The arrest of Cardinal Mindszenty by barbarian Hungarian Communists is a shameful and shocking thing — proving again that the difference between Communism, Fascism and Nazism is the difference between a skunk, a snake and a rat.

Communist leaders will learn what every tyrant has learned—from the Pharaohs to the Fuehrers: Force cannot destroy religious ideals. You can't put the Golden Rule behind bars or put the Sermon on the Mount in chains. . . . Religion will survive its enemies as it has always done—because you can't destroy a faith that exists in the hearts of people by putting them behind barbed wire.

Cardinal Mindszenty was arrested for the same reason a great Man was killed 1949 years ago.

John L. McClellan (a member of the Senate Committee which investigated the Ilse Koch case) stated: "Assuming that Gen. Clay made one hell of a mistake in commuting this woman's sentence, what then? He is our commander in a difficult post. Should we let him down in his work by allowing the Russians to believe that we have lost confidence in him? In short, what is the best way out of the whole business?"

Senator, the best way out of the whole business is to see that justice is done. But in commuting Ilse Koch's sentence Gen. Clay has already shamed the United States in the eyes of the civilized world and provided propaganda-ammunition for Moscow.

Senator, you cannot rectify "one hell of a mistake" by condoning it. What the Russians think of Gen. Clay isn't as important as what Americans think of themselves. . . . Russia's opinion of an American General is not the issue: American justice and self-respect are on trial.

Delinquent Girl Creates Problem

County Has No Place To Detain Her

Richland county juvenile authorities ran into their first difficulties yesterday afternoon over the lack of a juvenile detention home. The county has been without a detention home since last Friday.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer said the difficulties arose when a 14-year-old girl was apprehended as a delinquent and conditions in her own home were such that she could not be detained there.

Authorities then had to call more than a dozen foster homes in an attempt to find a place to keep her until a hearing could be set up. Judge Cramer said that finally a woman was found to take care of the girl in her home.

The judge said juvenile officials worked all afternoon in making phone calls so that the girl would not have to be placed in the county jail.

RENEWS APPEAL

Judge Cramer today again made a plea for families to take the children into their homes for a "good consideration."

"After all," the judge said, "these children are not criminals. They're children who are emotionally upset and confused."

He said those who show signs of "toughness" and who are over 14 will be held in jail until a detention home is set up.

"We're not asking anybody to take them in for nothing. They'll be paid and paid well for it," the judge said. He said payments would be made for rent, services and for food.

Judge Cramer has sought to obtain rooms in one home for girls and in another for boys until such time as a detention home can be set up. Commissioners have been unable to make any progress on obtaining a home for juveniles.

Job Nearly Half Done

General construction work on the new Richland county tuberculosis sanatorium is about 40 per cent completed, the county TB building commission was told yesterday.

Herbert Jones, architect on the project, said if favorable weather continues the $800,000 sanatorium will be completed on schedule next fall.

The building commission decided to lay the cornerstone at the northwest corner of the structure. Arrangements for the ceremony were turned over to Mrs. Margaet Adams, secetary of the Richland County Tuberculosis society.

Date fo the corner-stone-laying ceremony has not been set, in view of the unpredictable winter weather.

New Commissioner Fred Dill took his place on the building board, replacing ex-Commissioner John Selby. A resolution was passed welcoming Dill to membership and thanking Selby for his services while a member of the commission.

Discuss '49 Plans

Members of the Mansfield Merchants association yesterday discussed special sales plans and store hours. for 1949. Another meeting will be held within the next two weeks to draw up a schedule.

Death Takes Mrs. Huston

Active Clubwoman Stricken In Home

Mrs. Marie Florence Pettker Huston, 70, wife of former Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston, and a prominent Mansfield clubwoman, died Thursday night at her home, 35 Pinecrest. She had been ill a week.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., July 29, 1878, the daughter of Henry and Hannah Strebie, she came to Mansfield as a bride. She was one of the most active workers in the Park Avenue Baptist church for many years.

Until a few years ago she taught one of the Sunday school classes at the church, and was a member of the Missionary and Ladies' Aid societies.

She was a member of the Victorian club, a past president of the Dolly Madison club, the American Legion auxiliary, Spanish War Veterans' auxiliary, the Mansfield Federation of Women, the YWCA, and various music groups.

Surviving with her husband are a son, Attorney Henry P. Huston; one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Webb of Bay Village; a sister, Mrs. J. W. Schorr of St. Louis, Mo., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Finefrock funeral home, with Dr. W. M. Taylor, pastor of Park Avenue Baptist church, officiating. Interment will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Ex-Willard Resident Dies

WILLARD — Services for two Hot Springs, Ark., women victims of a crash near there Wednesday and one of whom formerly lived here and the other a frequent visitor, were to be held there this afternoon. They lived in adjoining apartments and frequently traveled together.

Mrs. Pearl Matson, 69, previously lived here until the death of her husband, Henry A., in 1938. Mr. Matson formerly was Baltimore and Ohio railroad yard conductor here. She was driving the car which crashed into a concrete bridge abuttment when attempting to pass a truck while the women were en route from Hot Springs to Melvern, Ark.

Mrs. Pearl Collins, passenger in the car, was killed instantly while Mrs. Matson succumbed in a Hot Springs hospital at 9:15 a. m. yesterday.

Army, Air Force Sign Three Men

Three men, including one Mansfielder, enlisted in the Army and Army Air Force at the Mansfield recruiting station, it was reported yesterday.

Enlisting in the regular army were Thomas Pandoff, 230 North Main street, Mansfield, for three years, and Frank Schwenner, Lodi, for two years. Enlisting in the Air Force for one year was Harold L. Brocklesby, Galion.

Correction

Three persons fined on assault and battery charges in municipal court Tuesday were Theresa and Josephine Carmel of 365 and 251 Grace streets respectively and Mary Farina, of Galion.

The affidavits were signed by Margery Fitzpatrick. It was reported in Wednesday's News-Journal that Margery Fitzpatrick was fined and that Mary Farina had signed the affidavit.

Estimate of Earnings Required By Jan. 15

All persons whose 1948 earnings were not subject to withholding tax and who did not file an estimate of their earnings sometime during 1948 must file their income tax reports with the internal revenue office by Jan. 15.

This group includes business men, farmers, professional men, and others working for themselves who earned $600 or more during the past year and did not file an estimate of earnings.

Those who filed an estimate and workers whose wages are entirely subject to withholding tax have until March 15 to file their income tax reports.

However, any person who earned more than $200 in addition to wages covered by withholding tax during 1948 also should file by Jan. 15, according to the internal revenue office here.

Anyone who made $600 or more during 1948 must file an income tax report either by Jan. 15 or March 15. Those who made less than $600 and who think that tax withheld from their wages is more than they will have to pay, must file a report to get back any refunds.

All tax reports should be filed with the internal revenue office on the second floor of the post office.

FILE WRONG FORMS

Thomas M. Carey, collector of internal revenue of the 18th district of Ohio, pointed out that some taxpayers are erroneously filing forms W-2 instead of the requirement for 1948 of filing income tax reports on either form 1040 or form 1040-A.

Form W-2 is not to be used as a tax-filing form, but is to be attached to form 1040 or form 1040-A, he said. The purpose of form W-2 is to show the amount of salary paid to a taxpayer, the amount withheld from him, and his social security number.

Carey also pointed out that taxpayers who have refunds due them and who are sending to his office forms W-2 instead of the required forms are delaying the payments of refunds. When W-2 is filed as a tax form it is necessary to return it to the taxpayer advising him to file the proper form.

Plant 300 Young Trees

Fish, Game Group To Use Bulldozer

Proof that the mechanical age is here to stay came at the regular meeting of the Richland County Fish and Game Protective association last night.

Citing a plan to plant 300 young trees at their newly-acquired game refuge on the Barr farm, James F. Burkhart, president, declared the trees would be uprooted with a bulldozer, then planted in trenches dug by a scraper.

The planting is the first step in converting the farm to a recreation and [illegible] center, according to club officials.

Other improvements scheduled for the coming year were modernization of the home located on the farm; construction of breeding ponds for fish; improvement of springs; construction of a ball diamond, and the setting-up of a picnic ground.

Also included on last night's program were the installation of officers; discussion of a proposed dog show; and appointment of committee chairmen.

Morton Tyree showed a number of movies on fishing in the Nipissing and French river areas of Canada.

The meeting was held at North Lake Park pavilion.

3 Appointed To County Jobs

One new appointment and two reappointments to the Richland county relief office were made by the Board of Commissioners Wednesday.

Mrs. Elain Dick of Shelby was appointed a relief investigator at a salary of $140 a month. Her appointment is effective from Jan. 6, 1949, to Jan. 2, 1950.

Mrs. Gladys Schad, 102 Sherman avenue, was reappointed chief clerk of the county relief office effective Jan. 3 and lasting until Jan. 2, 1950. Mrs. Elizabeth Grubaugh, 701 Springmill street, was reappointed statistician of the office for the same period. Salaries were set at $150 monthly.

CHILLY CAMPING—

Challenging Old Man Winter are the 25 scouts of Troop 2 with Scoutmaster William Daum and Assistant Scoutmaster Raymond Stretch who will leave this afternoon at 4:30 on an 11-mile overnight "Eskimo" hike to Camp Avery Hand. The scouts and leaders plan to reach the cabins at the camp around 7 this evening. The scouts will prepare their own meals tonight and tomorrow morning for credit towards advancement in rank and additional merit badges.

SKATING RUINED—

There's still no safe skating at Mansfield park lakes. Warm weather and rain have softened the ice at North lake and Liberty park to such an extent that skaters use it at their own risk, Park Supt. Frank Burton said. The mercury climbed above the freezing mark today, and there was no extremely cold weather in sight.

Court Finds Six Guilty

CIO Strikers Await Sentence

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Six former employes of the American Zinc Oxide company, which was strike-bound for five months, awaited sentence today on a total of 15 charges of assault and battery and malicious destruction of property.

Only one man was cleared of assaulting Henry H. Black, assistant general superintendant of the firm as he sat in his car near the Columbus plant Dec. 13.

All the men were members of the striking CIO Mine, Mill and Smelter workers union. Company officials had refused to negotiate with the union on the ground that its leaders refused to sign the non-communist provisions of the Taft-Hartley act.

The company recently signed a contract with the AFL.

Black said American Zinc "should be operating on a full production scale by the end of next week.

The men found guilty, with their charges were:

Ephraim Bozman, 31, two counts of assault and battery and two of malicious destruction; Tom Carter, 24, malicious destruction; Rossie Younger, 30, three charges of malicious destruction and two of assault and battery; Alphonse Carter, 35, two charges of malicious destruction; Claude Smith, 48, one of destruction and one of assault and battery, and Woodward Lowder, 31, one charge of assault and battery.

Schedule Dance

A dance, sponsored by the Mansfield Macedonian Youth organization, will be held at the Liederkranz hall, Fourth and Main streets, from 6:30 to midnight next Sunday. Music will be furnished by Mitre and his band.

Burns To Head Group

Union to Seek NLRB Election

Following up their announcement of a split with the CIO United Electrical Workers, a group of Ideal Electric company employes yesterday afternoon formed an AFL affiliate at the plant.

Roy E. Burns, who was ousted several weeks ago as chief steward of the CIO members at the plant, was elected president of the new local.

Burns said the union will be designated temporarily as B-688 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL. The organization meeting was held at the AFL hall at 117½ North Main street.

Burns said 78 per cent of the Ideal production workers have signed cards signifying their intention of joining the IBEW. The plant has approximately 278 employes.

The new AFL affiliate later this winter will ask the National Labor Relations board to conduct an election at the Ideal plant to determine which union the workers want to represent them, Burns said.

NO CHANGE UNTIL JUNE

The present contract with the Local 758, United Electrical Workers, doesn't expire until June 11, and Burns said there would be no change in the representation at least until after that date.

A group of employes at the Ideal plant split with the CIO early in November over a move to bar communists from the union, spokesmen of the new AFL local said.

They said they were shouted down in a meeting when they proposed that the union regulation be changed to bar communists from holding office and requiring union members to sign non-communist affidavits.

Other officers chosen by about 20 workers who cast ballots yesterday included:

Ed. Pfau, vice president and chief steward; Gerald O'Leary, recording secretary; R. E. McKinney, financial secretary and treasurer; and Roger Metcalf, business manager.

Members of the executive board are Murl Adams, William Kitzmiller, Wilbur Burns, Henry Baxter, Fred Boss, O'Leary, and Harry Snyder.

The local will meet the first Thursday of each month at 3:45 p. m.

K of P Lodge Installs

Charles F. Proctor was installed as chancellor commander of Madison Lodge No. 26, Knights of Pythias at ceremonies held last night at the Lodge hall.

Proctor succeeds Val Isham, retiring chancellor commander.

Other officers installed were: Wade Culler, vice chancellor; C. Robert Wymér, prelate; Paul Ackermann, secretary; Fred C. Castor, treasurer; Richard Beal, master-at-arms, and Walter Maglott, outer guard.

Installing officers were Kenneth Yeager, acting grand prelate; William C. Huck, acting grand chancellor and Tom Speck, acting vice chancellor.

In his acceptance speech, Proctor outlined plans for the coming year in the lodge, emphasizing that it would be a "year of surprises." Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed following the installation.

Judge Lamneck, Known Here, New Ohio Welfare Director

Judge John H. Lamneck, Tuscarawas county common pleas judge, and well-known in Mansfield from his frequent visits here to attend penal conferences at the Mansfield reformatory, has been appointed Ohio's welfare director by Governor-elect Frank J. Lausche.

Announcement of the appointment was made late yesterday by Lausche. Judge Lamneck will succeed Republican Charles I. Sherwood. The judge is a native of Tuscarawas county and is 57 years old. His term in common pleas court would have run to Dec. 31, 1950.

Author of the "Ohio Juvenile and Child Welfare Manual," Judge Lamneck has served several terms as a juvenile and probate judge. He was a member of the staff of Ohio State university during a survey and study of the Boys' State Industrial school in 1940 and the Girls' Industrial school in 1942.

He also is chairman of the advisory committee of the Ohio Probation and Parole association on OSR.

Lausche said Judge Lamneck had been chosen for the welfare post "because of his extensive experience in welfare work and his intimate knowledge of the grave problems confronting the state in respect to its obligation to delinquent and dependent children, the mentally sick, the tubercular, the poor and the aged and the wards of the state in penal institutions."

Lamneck was an unsuccessful candidate last November for Fifth District Appeals court judge.

The new director is married and has three children, all of whom are married. The welfare director during the first term of Gov. Elect Lausche was Frazier Reams, Toledo.

Appointment of Lamneck and that of Herbert D. Defenbacher, Republican, of Columbus, as finance director yesterday brought to a total of five the number of appointments made to the cabinet by the Democratic governor-elect who soon will begin his second non-consecutive term.

Lausche has three major jobs yet to be filled. They are liquor director, industrial relations director and adjutant general. The governor said all appointments would be made before the new administration takes over the state on Monday.

He declined to comment on a report from Cleveland that a former secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, Thomas Lenehan, was being considered for the industrial relations post.

Other cabinet selections that already have been made are: Robert L. Moulton, Galion, commerce director; A. W. Marion, Rockford, agriculture director, and Theodore J. Kauer, Erie county, highway director.
